

Crooked Manhattan Landlord Steven Croman Fined And Sentenced To Rikers

June 6, 2017

Fraudulent New York City landlord, Steven Croman faces jail time and a $5 million settlement after cheating the tax system and many of his tenants.

After a year-long investigation, Croman – landlord to over 140 NYC housing units, was found to have purchased rent-stabilized units, just to displace its tenants while attempting to refinance the initial apartment mortgage.

Upon announcing Croman’s guilty plea, Attorney General Eric T. Schneiderman stated the criminal “engaged in [an] illegal scheme to... obtain bank loans” and “went to outrageous lengths to boost his bottom line” in doing so. Much to the relief of many current NYC tenants and potential ones, Croman will be officially sentenced September 19, 2017, and off city streets for one year. (LongIsland)
