Jake Croman was filmed by driver Artur Zawada as he hurled a number of expletives at the man who had just cancelled his booking outside the University of Michigan.

"They don't give a s--- about you, they don't give two f---s," Croman is heard yelling at the driver.

"There's 50 of you and there's one of me who spends the most money here you little f---."

"Yeah f--- you Artur you little f----- f---. You want to kick me out, then kick me out you little piece of s---.... You little minimum wage f-----".

"You working all day? Well guess what? I'm going to go and sit on my ass and watch TV," Croman adds after turning away momentarily.

Zawada filed a complaint with Ann Arbor police over the incident, alleging that Croman had attacked him on three previous occasions.

Croman, son of property developer Steven Croman, has told US media his outburst was a response to Zawada making a number of "offensive anti-Semitic remarks".

"This video shows one side of an argument I had with an Uber driver two weeks ago after he refused to pick me up on the basis of my religion," Croman said in a newspaper.
